

The Charlotte News
Stricken Towns
October 22 - 1934
Given Relief Data

WILMINGTON (AP)—City officials of hurricane stricken communities met here today to receive information on available relief programs.

State leaders and representatives of relief agencies attended the meeting to pass the information along. Wilmington Mayor E. L. White said yesterday there was a possibility of an official estimate of hurricane damage being made.

State Civil Defense Director Brig. Gen. Edward Griffin, chairman of the North Carolina Hurricane Disaster Committee, was to fly here for the meeting. Those invited included officials of the Farmers Home Administration, the Small Business Administration, the Red Cross, insurance adjusters, and members of the disaster committee.

State officials invited included Lt. Gov. Luther Hodges and Ed Rankin, secretary to Gov. William B. Umstead.

A representative of the Small Business Administration was to set up an office at nearby Shallotte today. The administration makes low interest loans to small businessmen.

Because of a decline in looting, two of the eight National Guard units on duty were returned home yesterday. They were Headquarters Co. of the 150 AAA Battalion of Wilmington and Headquarters Co. of the 725th Battalion of Whiteville.

Maj. H. V. Reid of the National Guard said when more property owners claim their property, the other units will be released.

A mass typhoid inoculation program also was started in the Shallotte area today because the water supply was damaged.

The Southport shrimping fleet also was operating again after private contractors cleared off the waterfront.

U. S. Army Engineers from Fort Bragg reported that the job of clearing Wrightsville Beach was about 85 per cent finished. Work at Carolina Beach was slower.

Meanwhile the State Highway Patrol urged beach property owners to come in and remove anything of value.

Close-Ups Of Well-Known Resort Spots

LUNCH TIME AT WINDY HILL

A DEVELOPER NEEDS AN OFFICE

Hurricane Hazel left many strange pictures for a photographer. On the left these workmen relax at lunchtime. Their job: restoring Eyerly's Restaurant. Center photo was taken on the main street of Cherry Grove. Five blocks back is Frank Boulineau's grocery store at Cherry Grove.

(News Staff Photos by Tom Franklin's—Hunter)

LAST WEEK A SUPERMARKET